- Last: A single row of seven small rectangular boxes.
- M.I.: A single small rectangular box.
- First: A single row of seven small rectangular boxes.
- Address: Three stacked rows, each consisting of sixteen small rectangular boxes.
- SS Number: Three groups of boxes, each consisting of three small rectangular boxes.
- Telephone: Three groups of boxes, each consisting of four small rectangular boxes.
- Facsimile: Three groups of boxes, each consisting of four small rectangular boxes.
